CEO and Co-Founder, MANTL
New York, NY

Nathaniel Harley is the CEO and co-founder of MANTL, a technology company helping community banks and credit unions thrive. Founded in 2016, MANTL's platform has helped banks raise billions of dollars in deposits with the highest performing account opening solution on the market.

Nathaniel believes that MANTL can help level the playing field for smaller financial institutions. Starting with online account opening software that can be easily integrated into any bank's core banking software, MANTL aims to provide a competitive advantage to regional and community banks and credit unions.

Nathaniel is a serial entrepreneur. Before founding MANTL, Nathaniel founded and invested in several startups and began his career in investment banking at Goldman Sachs.

Nathaniel holds a Bachelor's degree in Mathematical Methods in the Social Sciences as well as Radio, Television and Film from Northwestern University. He is passionate about helping other founders, everything sports, and finding the best restaurants.
