Thomas E. Williams serves as the Business Continuity / Disaster Recovery Strategy Manager for Centurion Disaster Recovery Services, a division of Jack Henry & Associates. In his role there, Williams is responsible for providing consultation services to financial institutions throughout the US and the Caribbean Islands in the development of their Business Continuity / Disaster Recovery Plans (BC/DRP). In 1978, Williams started his 32-year career in the computer industry with the IBM Corporation in Detroit, MI. It was at IBM where he focused his career on business continuity planning. Tom is a faculty member of the Graduate School of Banking and the University of Wisconsin-Madison, and is a sought after as a speaker on the subject of business continuity and disaster preparedness.